

INTESTINES

the total surface area of your intestines is about half the size of a badminton court september 3rd 2005 ten past twelve period 4 I spew my guts on the school sports hall floor my intestines are athletic they move food with a wave like pattern of muscular actions peristalsis age 12 I know what I want derives from the greek my thoughts long hollowed coiled tubes that lead to the anus fit boys call me faggot a type of food the intestines absorb the nutrients then force out the waste into the rectum where nerves create sensations that make you feel like a shit but I cannot pass it gathers in the stomach my second brain it makes me bottom heavy shuttlecock it piles until it fills my liver heart lungs esophagus oral cavity it makes me sick humans breath about 25000 times a day humans are the only animal to blush
